

Chamber endorses unit system

BY TRACI BONNEY

The Hancock Chamber of Commerce's board of directors voted unanimously Monday to back the unit system of county road administration.

In supporting the unit over the beat system, the chamber board stated the directors' belief that since Hancock County is one of the state's fastest growing counties, the supervisors are needed more as policy makers than road maintenance and improvement directors.

The chamber board's resolution recommended that the supervisors adopt a detailed road plan based on documented need, considering use, condition and public input. This plan should include the specifics of the work schedule by road and time schedule in an easily understood form, including appropriate maps, the resolution stated.

The chamber board further recommended that:

all residents review this plan as adopted by the supervisors; the supervisors institute an emergency road repair policy which establishes sufficient resources to respond to needs in a timely manner while considering road maintenance and improvement budget requirements; and the supervisors continue to develop and expand the content of long-range plans for the county's growth and development, including review of existing and proposed land use and methods to controlling responsible development of land.

The chamber board's final recommendation was that all residents vote on the unit system by voting "yes" (item #55) on the following referendum November 3. "Do you want to require the county to operate under the countywide system?"

Absentee voting heavy: Metzler

BY JANET MCQUEEN

Absentee voting in the county has been extremely heavy, according to Hancock County Circuit Clerk Pamela Metzler.

"We have probably mailed out over 400 ballots. In three hours this morning (Wednesday) 30 people have voted in the office," said Metzler.

The elderly make up the largest number of absentee voters, said the circuit clerk, followed by persons who plan to be away from home on business.

Absentee voting will continue in the clerk's office until Saturday, October 31 at noon.

Students, residents 65 or older, in the military or planning to be more than 50 miles away from home because of business or in a hospital because of illness are among those eligible to vote by absentee ballot.

'Corner' cleanup set for Saturday

BY ELLIS CUEVAS

A group from St. Rose de Lima Catholic Church, citizens in the neighborhood, Operation Wakeup, and members of the Hancock Chamber of Commerce Beautification Committee are to do a special cleanup Saturday.

The group is to meet at 10 a.m. at the Martin Luther King Park, Washington Street, Bay St. Louis.

The cleanup of the park and the corner and surrounding areas, will be preceded by a brief prayer, said spokesman Joanne Northridge.

"We urge all neighbors, residents and concerned citizens to join us for this very important cleanup project that will benefit our whole community, Carol Vegas," chamber litter control chairman, said.

Bay Mayor Eddie Favre has made arrangements for city workers to remove the collected litter.

Bags for participants will be provided, but it is important for participants to bring their own gloves, Vegas said.

Sam Nichols, chamber beautification committee member, and resident of the area, said this special cleanup was originally scheduled on Oct. 10, but was postponed due to rain.

North Bay students, teachers honor cafeteria workers

BY T. H. "DOC" TOUPS

North Bay Elementary School celebrated National School Lunch Week with a twist; during the week of October 12 through 16, cafeteria workers were catered to by teachers and students!

Each day, the teachers would provide a mid-morning snack, such as coffee and eclairs, and the students were introduced to each worker. Following the introduction, each of the ladies was given the opportunity to tell the students a little about herself.

Eagle nest project

Nesting towers delivered to three Coast counties

On Monday morning, the employee recreation park at Du Pont's DeLisle facility was abuzz with activity as six Southern bald eagle nesting towers were moved from the park to their final resting sites in Hancock, Harrison and Jackson counties.

The towers, 40 feet tall, were constructed of new and recycled utility poles and feature a smooth metal band halfway up their height to prevent predators from climbing to the nests. Materials and labor were donated by Mississippi Power Company and Coast Electric Power Association.

Southern Bald eagles, once plentiful on the Coast, have seen their numbers reduced in the past several decades as insecticides and hurricanes encroached on their natural habitat.

The eagles construct their nests as part of their courtship ritual and the finished examples can be as much as eight feet across and weigh up to 2,000

Diamondhead district buys water system from Casano

BY TRACI BONNEY

The Diamondhead Water and Sewer District can finally live up to the full potential of its name.

The district finalized purchase Tuesday afternoon of the community's water system from owner Pete Casano, who had bought it from Purcell Corp. in 1989. The district paid $2 million for the system itself, plus $65,000 for office and storage facilities.

The purchase was made retroactive to October 1, the beginning of the district's fiscal year.

Attorney Leonard Blackwood of Gulfport, who represented the district in closing the deal, called the purchase a positive thing for the community.

"The district will be able to make more long-range plans," he commented.

"They won't have to farm out their billing or meter reading any more; they can handle all the bills—water and sewer—themselves."

"In the long haul, I think it will keep the rates at a reasonable level for the residents."

"The appraisal for the system was considerably higher than what the district paid, so we feel that the district got a good deal."

Volunteers needed to help people file tax returns

The Internal Revenue Service is looking for volunteers to help people file tax returns. Anyone wishing to learn a skill, give something to the community and control the number of hours contributed, the IRS Volunteer Income Tax Assistance program may have just the opportunity you are looking for. VITA is a program that involves community volunteers to help people who need assistance in filling out their tax returns. Free training (four-day class) is conducted in December or January—and now is the time to sign up. VITA can find a way to involve you in the program and in your community.

To call toll-free, dial 1-800-829-1040 and ask to be transferred to the Volunteer and Education Office in Jackson. Tax practitioners interested in volunteering should inquire about possible CPE credit for volunteer efforts through VITA.

Women's Aglow meets Tuesday

The Women's Aglow Fellowship of Hancock County will meet Tuesday, October 27, 7 p.m., at the Waveland Resort Inn on Hwy. 90.

A Dutch treat dinner — pork chops topped with raisin sauce, vegetables, dessert, coffee or tea — will precede the meeting at 6 p.m. The dinner is $10 per person, which will help the group with the room rent and a love offering for the guest speaker. Reservations for dinner must be made by noon Monday.

Guest speaker is Delpha Steelman, former president of the Gulf Coast Women's Aglow (1975-78). She and her husband recently celebrated their 41st wedding anniversary. They have two children and four grandchildren.

Women's Aglow is an international organization of renewed Christian women. During the monthly meetings of the interdenominational fellowship, the members worship God and share His word. Husbands and friends of the women who attend also are invited.

The fellowship is asking those who attend to bring canned foods and dry goods — flour, sugar, etc. — for the county Food Pantry.

For more information or dinner reservations, call Julie Howell at 467-0030 or Edith Palmer at 467-7507.

Chamber president Basil Kennedy commented, "We perceived a need to take a stance. The system we have is not 'broke'; it needs to be given a fair chance to work."

"The supervisors have a lot to do, including roads, but they have a lot more than roads to be concerned with, such as long-range planning, pounds.

Dr. Robert Esher of Mississippi State University's DeLisle Environmental Laboratory has been active in this project since its inception. He said that he was delighted by the coordination between private industry, government and the military. He cautioned that there were no guarantees that the eagles would use the new nesting sites. "It's an experiment," he said.

In an earlier phase of the project, eagle eggs collected in the wild were hatched under controlled conditions and the eaglets were released in 1989. The birds are now old enough to mate, and the hope is that the new nesting towers will help ensure their success.

CONTROLLED SUBSTANCE POSSESSION

While serving a Long Beach contempt of court warrant, Bay detectives added the charge of crack cocaine possession when arresting William Vontoure, 47, of Washington Street.

Detective Don Burleson reported the October 6, 9:57 p.m. arrest, saying, while serving the Long Beach warrant to Vontoure at the corner of Sycamore and St. Francis streets, detectives Kurt Raymond and Shane Corr found Vontoure to be in possession of two rocks of crack cocaine.

Vontoure was charged with possession of a controlled substance and assault on police officers.

Burleson added that Vontoure was placed in the Hancock County Justice Facility on a $10,000 bond where he presently remains. Raymond and Corr are both in charge of the investigation.

GRAND LARCENY

Detective Tom Burleson of the Bay St. Louis Police Department reported the arrest of Judge W. Flood, 30, Sunday for theft of a car. Burleson said, "The car was parked, but Flood had the keys in his possession when arrested at 6:26 p.m."

Flood, of Sycamore Street, was charged with grand larceny and placed in the Hancock County Justice Facility on a $5,000 bond. He remains incarcerated.

Detective Terry Eley is in charge of the investigation.

The unit system needs more time

To go forward, or go backward, those are the choices facing Hancock County electors on Tuesday, Nov. 3, 1992.

Do the people want Hancock County to retain the unit system of county government, or return to the beat system?

Some will say the unit system went into effect in 1988 and hardly has not had a chance to prove whether it will work or not.

Others say the system is not working, and the county needs to return to the beat system of operation.

No matter the system, it must have the cooperation of all involved to maximize its efficiency.

Some say, there are those who have been against the unit system and have done everything in their power to undermine its effectiveness.

The beat system may still be for good some small counties; but, should Hancock County go backwards? Hancock is among the fastest growing counties in Mississippi.

The unit system must have more time to prove its worth.

"QUOTABLE QUOTES"

By Ellis C. Cuevas

In local high school football action this Friday it will be homecoming for both Hancock High and the St. Stanislaus Rock-A-Chaws.

Bay High Tigers will be away this week in a conference tilt against Perry Central.

The Tigers are flying high, after capturing the county 'championship' last week in a shutout victory over the Hancock High Hawks.

Bay High's only blemish on their 1992 record is an away-from-home loss to East Marion 10-7, the Division VIII Class 3-A conference leader.

Friday's game for Bay High will also be a conference tilt and it could decide second place in the conference.

Rocky Gaudin, Bay High head coach, had the Tigers well prepared for Hancock. They shut down the Hawks' ground and air game, moved through their defense and completely dominated the play in their first victory in five years over the cross county rivals.

Stanislaus' foe for homecoming Friday, Pearl River Central, is state rated and will be a challenge for the young Rock-A-Chaws.

This would be a good week for Stanislaus to capture victory number one of the season. The Rocks have not lost their desire to win and appear to be improving with each game of the season. The only problem now is that they will not get many more chances this year.

I am sure Hawk coach Irvin Favre will have the Hawks ready for action on Friday night for their homecoming game against Picayune.

The Hawks will need a lot of fan support, and a good game from each and every player, but they can be victors if they want it enough.

Your local teams need your support, so get to the stadium on Friday night and let they players know you support them 100 percent.

The cool weather felt real good Tuesday morning, but I am sure it will warm up a few more times before the first of the year.

Our days are getting shorter and shorter, and we will not have any time in the evenings, as the clocks will be set back one hour Sunday morning.

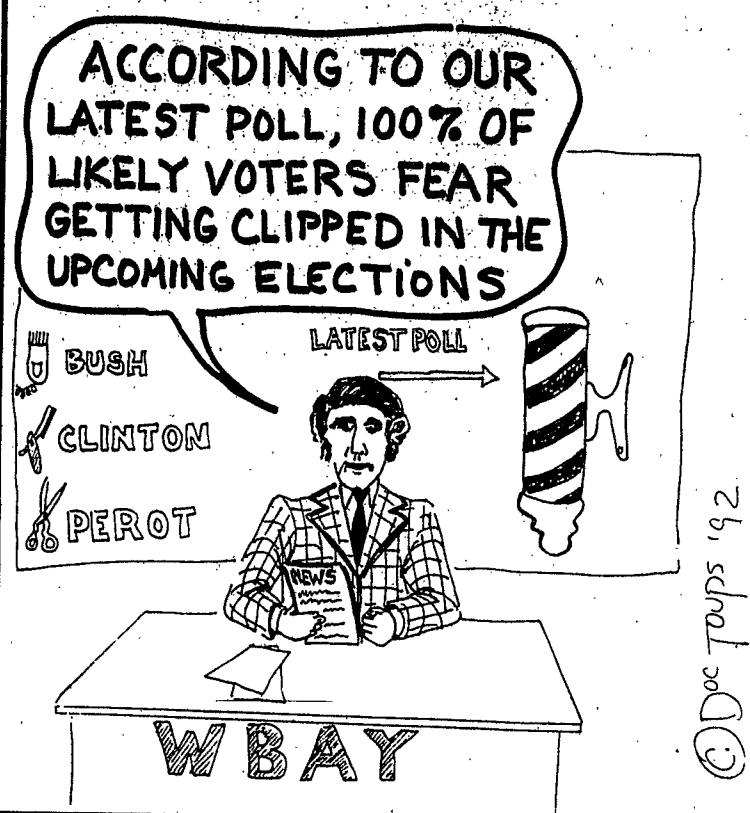

So don't forget to move your clocks back Saturday night.

THE ONE THING THEY AGREE ON;
WE'RE IN REAL TROUBLE
IF WE DON'T...

Hancock county

By Doc Toups

Kellar defends beat system

Dear Editor,
I have worked for Hancock County as a supervisor under both the unit and beat systems of government.

I know our county is getting short changed with the unit system form of government.

Let me give you some background information of the county unit system as I see it.

For years the Mississippi Economic Council has written articles and lobbied the Legislature for county unit system form of government, saying how much more efficient and cost saving it would be.

Since the legislators passed a bill to let the people decide what form of government they want, the MEC has written all kinds of sleazy articles (one of these examples is entitled "Snakes are Crawling") blaming the legislators and people in unit counties for taking a stand to bring the unit system to a vote.

These figures represent accurate operating expenditures prior to and since implementation of the Unit System in Hancock County.

Prior to unit system, 1985-1986:
Total assessed value $135,000,000
Road Maintenance 2.7 Mills
Road Construction 1.35 Mills
Total 4.05 Mills

1991-1992:
Assessed value $153,000,000
Road Maintenance 4.41 Mills
Road Construction 2.35 Mills
Bond Issue 1.94 Mills for R.C.
Total 8.70 Mills
Total monies from millage $1,311,100

1992-1993:
Millage stays the same.
If Hancock County goes back to the beat system, supervisors by law will have centralized purchasing with purchasing and receiving clerks.

I am in no way laying the blame on any supervisor, past or present. I blame the unit system.

Hancock County has used the unit system for six years and not the first road has been hard surfaced.

The proof is in the pudding.

I have abided by the law in both forms of government and will continue to do so.

A. A. (Dolph) Kellar
Flat Top Community

Total monies received from millage $607,500
In 1990-1991:
Assessed value $149,000,000
Road Maintenance 4.15 Mills
Road Construction 2.35 Mills
Total 6.50 Mills
Total monies received from millage $968,500

1991-1992:
Assessed value $153,000,000
Road Maintenance 4.41 Mills
Road Construction 2.35 Mills
Bond Issue 1.94 Mills for R.C.

People have no voice in choice of road manager

To the Editor,
According to a lot of people, supervisors are the only ones who are corrupt. I think its unfair to constantly put down supervisors just to keep the unit system.

Road managers and purchasing agents were not around to be compared. I wonder if, of the 26 counties, the supervisors, road managers and purchasing agents were evenly divided, what the score would have been.

I think in our situation

(Heron Bay), we need to go back to the beat system. Every four years we can vote out or in a supervisor. But with a road manager with three supervisors' support we are stuck with him indefinitely. Those three districts get most of the tax dollar, or so it seems to me.

Let's go back to the beat system so each district keeps its fair share and puts the responsibility back to the supervisor.

Campaign issues are not always black and white

Conventional political wisdom holds that the running mate of a presidential candidate doesn't help the ticket, except perhaps in the home state of the V-P candidate. That certainly isn't true in Mississippi in the case of Sen. Al Gore of Tennessee.

When Democratic nominee Bill Clinton put Gore on the ticket with him, he could hardly have made a more popular choice in this state, especially in Northeast Mississippi, where the Gore name has a familiar resonance.

There are Gores or Gore descendants all over the place, especially in Calhoun County, where Thomas Gore, a pioneer and ancestor of Al Gore, once owned the land on which Calhoun City now sits.

Old Kit Bryant, a retired Calhoun County cattleman who claims kin to the Gores, is fond of saying, "When the Gores come over on the Mayflower, there wasn't any Bushes in America, there were just trees."

As could be expected, a good contingent of Calhoun County residents joined other Northeast Mississippians in the throng that welcomed Al Gore when he came to Starkville last Friday to show the flag for the Clinton-Gore ticket.

Clinton, who had been off the campaign trail several days resting his hoarse voice for the second debate with President Bush, was expected to make a campaign swing into Mississippi the early part of this week, his first since he won the Democratic nomination in July.

Significantly Al Gore's visit tracked some of the same area where his Republican foe, Vice President Dan Quayle, touched down three weeks ago when he made a campaign stop at Columbus, and made the standard GOP attack on Gore and Clinton as "tax and spend liberals" in the Democratic mold.

Gore's record of 16 years in Congress, and his public positions, make a canard of Quayle's "liberal" categorization. Gore has long been recognized on Capitol Hill as a solid moderate even when his party was controlled by the liberal wing.

Now, rather than being out of step with the National Democratic Party, Gore's centrist position has become embraced by the party. He was one of the earliest backers in Congress of Clinton's Democratic Leadership Conference, the moderate Democrats who snatched leadership of the party away from the traditional Eastern liberal establishment.

Of course the Republicans must divert attention away from Gore's standing as one of the hardest working solons, a digger who has become the best informed person in Congress on complex national issues, ranging from controlling nuclear arms to preserving the nation's and world's environment. Hence Quayle was widely panned by the media for badly distorting in last week's debate with Gore the meaning of passages from Gore's book on the worldwide environmental crisis, "Earth in the Balance." Quayle charged Gore's call for a "Marshall Plan" to prevent destruction of the ecology in poorer nations was a prescription for hiking taxes of Americans.

That Quayle has been George Bush's attack dog on Bill Clinton's avoidance of the draft during the Vietnam War is bitterly ironic in the face of Quayle's own use of powerful family influence to get into an absolutely safe Indiana National Guard slot which saved him from the Vietnam draft.

A retired Guard general who worked for Quayle's grandfather, Eugene Pulliam, the right-wing politically powerful Indiana newspaper czar, made calls to secure for young Quayle a coveted assignment with the Guard headquarters unit in 1969 at time when the Indiana Guard had long waiting lists. This fact was recently documented by the New York Times through more than 30 interviews and examination of Guard records.

Moreso, as a result of his cushy assignment, Quayle was able to attend the Indiana University law school at Indianapolis and graduate while being a "week-end warrior" back in Indiana, rather than Vietnam. Years afterwards, as a congressman and senator, Quayle became a vocal war hawk.

In contrast, Al Gore, who was philosophically opposed to the Vietnam War, (demonstrating against it as a student at Harvard in the late 60s) nevertheless went into the Army and was sent to Vietnam as a combat reporter for an engineering brigade.

So goes the Great Campaign battle of 1992, in which the issues are not all black and white.

Do you remember the first presidential election in which you voted?

"Had to be JFK. My family was long time Democrats. It was just the thing to do in my family, get out and vote."

Helen Blaney Pass Christian

"Yes, it was John Kennedy. He was running against Nixon, who I thought was a crook and later was proven to be right."

Harold Moore Bay St. Louis

"I think it was Nixon. It was back in the 1970s."

"I can't remember. No, I surely can't."

John "Zuzu" Carver Waveland

"It was in 1957 and I voted for Dwight D. Eisenhower. It was his second term. You had to be 21 years old, live in the same state for two years, the same county for six months and the same precinct for three months in order to vote then."

G.B. Herring Purvis

"Sure, 1972. The Republicans were running Nixon, the Democrats were running McGovern, and I voted for Timothy Leary, who was running Independent. Voting for Timothy Leary was absurd, but so was voting for either one of the other candidates."

Stennis begins CAC drive

Employees at NASA's John C. Stennis Space Center rallied together Oct. 14 for the kickoff of the 1993 Combined Agencies Campaign (CAC). The goal of this year's drive, which runs through Nov. 19, is set at $148,000.

SSC director Roy Estess is this year's CAC chairman. Speaking on behalf of Estess at the kickoff, SSC associate director Bill Taylor expressed the need for going to the Combined Agencies Campaign when he said, "There is a great number of people out there who, through no fault of their own, need help because the economy has changed. We are here today to share the blessings that have been bestowed upon us with them and others in need."

The goal of the annual charity drive reflects the combined contributions of SSC's federal and industrial contractor employees. NASA's Bob Barlow is coordinating the federal portion of the Stennis drive, while Johnson Controls general manager Jack Dickinson is chairing the industrial side of the campaign.

Stennis Space Center's federal agencies have pledged

$87,000 toward this year's drive, and the industrial contractors have committed to raising $61,000. Over the past three years, the CAC has raised more than $600,000 at SSC.

Employees are free to designate which organizations will receive their donations.

Registered voters who fit into the specific categories for absentee voting and who want to use that method, should contact Metzler. Among those eligible are:

—Students, teacher and administrators; their spouses and dependents

—Anyone who must be more than 50 miles from their home county on election day because of employment; their spouses and dependents

—Members of the Armed Forces, their spouses and dependents

—Disabled war veterans who are hospitalized, their spouses and dependents

—Persons 65 or older

—Temporarily or permanently physically disabled

—Parents, spouses and dependents of a person hospitalized outside his/her home county or more than 50 miles from home who will be with that person on election day.

To be counted, absentee ballots must be received in the mail by the circuit clerk prior to 5 p.m. Monday, Nov. 2.

Certain voters are eligible to cast absentee ballots by mail, but they must request an application from the circuit clerk.

Those eligible to vote absentee by mail include:

—Members of the Armed Forces, their spouses and dependents

—Temporarily or permanently physically disabled

—Persons 65 or older

—Parents, spouses and dependents of a person hospitalized outside his/her home county or more than 50 miles from home who will be with that person on election day

—Anyone temporarily residing outside his/her home county

On the Nov. 3 ballot will be candidates for President and Vice-President, U.S. House of Representatives, Mississippi Legislature, Supreme Court, county school boards, election commissioners, and some special elections.

Also, eight constitutional amendments passed during the 1992 legislative session will be offered for approval or rejection.

The teachers at North Bay Elementary conceived the idea of feting the cafeteria workers, and the students did their part by designing thank-you notes and posters expressing appreciation.

Principal Kim Stasny was delighted by the idea. "They do a wonderful job," she said. "We love their food!"

Cafeteria manager Doris Barnes is working on her 20th year at North Bay Elementary. When asked what her reaction was to the school's expression of appreciation she said, "I think it's great! This is the purpose of our job—the children. It really makes us feel like what we do is appreciated."

CONGRESSMAN GENE TAYLOR VOTED AGAINST THE CONGRESSIONAL PAY RAISE

But, when it passed over his objection, he used his raise to fund scholarships for worthy students such as Wendy Morreale of Pass Christian, Mississippi.

Senate District 46

Jerry Ladner Says.....

We, the People, should take our Schools and Government back. We have lost control.

Jerry Ladner will challenge the Federal Government by putting God, Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag and Discipline back into our Schools.

We need to hire teachers who are QUALIFIED and DEDICATED to teach our children and not because of the color of their skin or their sex preference.

Without God and these things, our Schools with our children will not survive.

Due to the greed of most Doctors, Lawyers and most Elected Officials, we have lost control of our Health Care, Justice System, Schools and our Government -- This needs to be STOPPED.

JERRY LADNER will work hard to cut the fat out of Government. (Open your telephone directories and see how many Governmental Agencies are listed)

We could cut 80% of them, not miss them; and cut our taxes accordingly. This would help reduce our car tags, too.

JERRY LADNER believes no one should have power over our lives who isn't voted into office. A prime example was the tax commission who tried to pass the car tag increase in June.

JERRY LADNER believes that we should give the Government back to the people.

Diamondhead first to recycle

Collection contract being renewed;
district talks with Waste Management

BY TRACI BONNEY

Q. What Coast community was first to implement residential curbside recycling?

A. Diamondhead.

Diamondhead has been recycling for close to three years, according to Waste Management's Terry Robinson.

In fall of 1989, a committee was formed to work with Gulf Coast Waste on the concept of curbside recycling. A survey conducted that November through the community's newsletter revealed an "overwhelmingly positive" response to the idea, according to a 1990 article in that publication.

Gulf Coast Waste purchased a trailer to collect glass, aluminum cans, newspaper and clear plastic, then arranged a collection schedule which coordinated with the community's existing garbage collection.

Curbside recycling began with Gulf Coast Waste in mid-May of 1990. In August of that year, Waste Management purchased Gulf Coast Waste.

Collection started at twice a month. Now, Robinson said, residents may choose to have their recyclables collected once or twice a week.

Not only was Diamondhead first in the curbside recycling business, but the community also is almost complete in its participation. Robinson estimated that 90 percent of the residents recycle.

He said Waste Management, after collecting the materials, takes them to Applewhite Recycling in Gautier to sell them.

Now, the community's recycling collection contract is due for renewal. Tuesday, the commissioners of the Diamondhead Fire and Waste District voted to negotiate once again with Waste Management, according to Property Owners Association general manager Paul Montjoy.

He said some minor changes in the collection method may be made, but they will be improvements to make recycling even more convenient for the residents.

Local chiropractor serves on medical team to Mexico

Diamondhead chiropractor Dr. William Borland recently returned from Mexico, where he served as part of a health care team traveling to the central area of that country to provide much-needed care to the needy and disadvantaged.

The team, sponsored by the Methodist Church, included Borland, two doctors from Kansas and registered nurses from the Gulf Coast area.

Borland employed his full range of expertise to treat spinal and musculoskeletal problems incurred by those people who do not have regular access to regular health care.

He commented that it was encouraging to see doctors from different health care specialties working together to meet the needs of the Mexican people. He also said it was a humbling experience to work with people so wanting in regular health care.

Borland will return to a small village in the area of Cuernavaca, Mexico, next year as part of the same team, which will render services to an even more isolated and needy group of people.

St. Thomas sponsors education programs

St. Thomas Episcopal Church, 5303 Diamondhead Circle, Diamondhead, is sponsoring four programs of Christian education this year:

Navy Ball set Saturday

Naval oceanography officer turned astronaut, Lieutenant Commander Mario Runco Jr., USN, will address his fellow Navy members Saturday night, during the annual U.S. Navy birthday ball. The event will be held at the Pinewood Country Club in Slidell, La. Rear Admiral John E. Chubb, Commander, Naval Oceanography Command, will also speak at the gala which is expected to draw over 100 attendees.

The event is sponsored by the three naval oceanography activities at the Stennis Space Center—the Naval Oceanography Command Headquarters, the Naval Oceanographic Office and the Naval Research Laboratory Detachment.

Runco, was commissioned into the Navy as an ensign in 1978. He served in the navy's oceanography community until he was selected as a NASA astronaut candidate in August 1986. Runco made his first space shuttle flight in November 1991 as a mission specialist with STS-44. He is scheduled to make his second flight in January 1993 as a mission specialist with STS-54 aboard the Space Shuttle Endeavour.

It may be Greek to you...

OLA mom Joanne Kinney serves up ethnic delicacies for 1,200 at fest

BY JANET MCQUEEN
Pass Christian resident Joanne Kinney's kitchen would be the envy of a small restaurant.

A gleaming commercial stove with 10 burners and two ovens sits waiting.

An island the size of a dining table is covered with smooth granite. This is the kitchen of someone who loves to cook, better still, someone who loves to share her cooking.

A few weeks ago the 5' x 9' island had not an inch of uncovered space, as Kinney prepared 1,200 servings of Greek specialties to be sold at the Our Lady Academy International Food Festival.

"We sold out, and that makes me feel good," she said. "I've found that very few people on the Coast cook this way. Two to three dozen people asked if I have a restaurant."

Rather than parlay her skills into a career, Kinney is content to use them to help various charitable organizations. St. Paul Catholic Church, Coast Episcopal Schools, St. Paul School, OLA and the St. Paul Seafood Festival have all been on the receiving end of her cooking talents.

A Coast resident for 11 years, she stresses the sense of family and community which are developed through volunteer service. Her three children have grown up in a home where helping others is second nature.

When ninth grade daughter Kat decided to give all of her teachers Greek baklava, a honey-drenched layered pastry for Christmas, Joanne pointed her to the pans. To her surprise, after a few questions, Kat produced delectable gifts which the teachers thought her mother had baked.

"But, the kids usually come in and ask, 'Who is that for?'" said Kinney.

PLANNING

In cooking for a crowd, she relates the planning is more difficult than the preparation. Mathematical computations come into play when baklava and spanakopetes (spinach and cheese puffs) are translated into 50 pounds of phyllo pastry dough and 50 pounds of butter.

"It sounds overwhelming, but it really flows," she said. Helping to make it flow for the Food Festival is Loislyn Scardino, Pass Christian mother of 10. "I actually have difficulty cooking in small quantities," she admitted.

"Joanne calls me when it's time to start. We spend the first day making baklava, which is the most labor-intensive," said Scardino. Some 30 layers of delicate phyllo pastry must be individually painted with melted butter. One of Kinney's pans serves 80.

"Joanne does it all so effortlessly; she has the biggest heart," said Scardino, who has helped her with the Food Fest for six years.

An enthusiast who rarely follows recipes from her 200-plus cookbook library, Kinney learned the art of Middle Eastern cooking from an elderly Lebanese aunt 15 years ago. She has expanded those skills by experimentation.

For instance, the time her

They would never believe it. The following are some of the recipes Kinney prepared for the Food Fest:

BRAISED EGGPLANT

Melitzanes Plaki
2-3 medium eggplants
Olive oil or olive oil and vegetable oil combined
1 onion, sliced
1/2 lb. ground beef
1/2 cup parsley, chopped
3-4 tomatoes, thinly sliced
1-2 cloves garlic, slivered
1 bay leaf

Dill Yogurt Sauce

1 small carton plain yogurt
1 tsp. dill weed
1/2 tsp. Cavender's Greek seasoning
1/2 tsp. dried parsley
Blend seasonings into yogurt and chill.

SPINACH CHEESE PUFFS

Spanakopetes
1 medium onion, finely chopped
1/4 cup olive oil
1 package frozen chopped spinach, thawed, or 1 pound spinach, well washed and finely chopped
1/2 pound feta cheese
1 eggs, beaten
1/4 cup bread crumbs
1/2 pound phyllo pastry sheets
1/2 cup (1/4 pound) butter, melted (half margarine may be used)

Nutmeg, dash
Saute onion in olive oil for 5 minutes. Add spinach, from which as much water as possible has been drained. Simmer with the onion over a low flame, stirring occasionally, until most of moisture is evaporated.

Crumble feta cheese into small pieces. Add beaten eggs and mix well. Toss bread crumbs into spinach onion mixture and add to cheese. Stir until well blended.

Melt butter. Carefully cut phyllo pastry into 3 equal portions. Refrigerate two-thirds until needed and cover the remaining third with a slightly dampened towel. Remove one sheet of phyllo pastry, place on a flat surface, and butter well. Fold in the long sides towards the middle, making a strip about 1 inches wide; butter

Early training in cooking for a crowd started with the Pass Christian Yacht Club Ladies Auxiliary lunches, which board members had to prepare.

Lunch for 150 soon expanded to helping with food for 4,000 at the annual Pass Seafood Festival.

Kinney recently returned from her 25th high school class reunion in New Orleans, where former classmates asked her "Just what do you do in

1/4 tsp. ground cinnamon
Salt and pepper to taste
Slice eggplant, sprinkle with salt and pepper and put in a colander to drain. Weigh down with a heavy plate and let stand for 30 minutes.

Heat oil in a skillet and quickly brown eggplant slices on both sides, adding more oil as needed. When all slices have been browned, there should be 2 to 3 tablespoons oil remaining in the skillet. In this oil saute ground beef and onion until soft and golden.

Return eggplant slices and add parsley, tomatoes, garlic, and bay leaf. Cook over low heat for 1 1/2 hours. 4-6 servings. (Serve with rice).

PITA SANDWICH

(Greek 'Sloppy Joe')
1 lb. lean ground beef
1 onion, chopped
1 bunch parsley chopped fine
1/2 cup grated carrots
1/2 tsp. Cavender's Greek seasoning
1/8 tsp. ground cinnamon
Salt and pepper to taste
Brown ground beef and onions in 1 tblsp. oil. Add parsley and carrots and cook until tender. Add seasonings.
Spoon ground beef mixture into half pita pocket. Top with dill-yogurt sauce.

Fitzpatrick takes first in 'Toast' juried art show

Kat Fitzpatrick won the Toast to the Coast juried art show, held Friday at Armand's. Fitzpatrick's winning entry was a watercolor titled "Isleta."

Georgia Kuhner's oil-on-canvas portrait "Kiki and Eric" took second; and Gail Perrin Blank's pottery, "Orange Monkey Pot," finished third.

Special awards went to: Annette Blocker, oil painting, "A Road More Traveled"; John McDonald, pencil on paper, "Bayou Caddy"; Pat Odom, oil on paper, "View From the Porch"; Vernon Reinike, oil, "Island Pines in the Sun"; Catherine Satchfield, watercolor, "Caladiums"; Elizabeth Veglia, mosaic on furniture, "Compass Rose Table"; and Judy McGinnis, mixed media work, "Spirit of the Wolf."

The winning pieces will be displayed at Serenity Gallery, 126 Main, which will have an open house in honor of the artists Sunday from 2 to 5 p.m.

Judges for the Toast to the Coast were Dorothy J. Coleman, patron of the arts and president of the New Orleans Academy of Fine Arts; and Patsy Collins Adams, gallery director and administrator of the New Orleans Academy of Fine Arts.

Toast to the Coast is Coast Episcopal Schools' annual fund raiser, which includes a juried art show and a live auction.

again. Place one tablespoon of mixture in the bottom right-hand corner of strip and fold over into triangle shape. Continue folding, making sure, with each fold, that the bottom edge is parallel with the alternate side edge. Lightly butter finished triangle. Continue in this manner until all cheese and/or phyllo sheets are used.

If spinach rolls are preferred, cut the sheets of phyllo pastry into quarters. Refrigerate 3 quarters, and cover the 1 quarter with a lightly dampened towel.

Brush each quarter sheet well with melted butter. Place 1 tablespoon of the spinach cheese 1 inch from narrow edge of sheet. Fold the inch margin over mixture; fold long edges in toward middle. Butter again and roll compactly to end.

Bake the spanakopetes in a 425-degree oven for 20 minutes or until golden-browned, turning once. Allow to cool about 5 minutes before serving. Serve Warm. Yield: 40-50 pieces.

Note: This recipe may be made with American pie dough in a piepan. Serve in pie wedges.

Wildcats face nemesis Co-Lin Saturday

During the rich history of Pearl River Community College football no team has dominated the Wildcats over a 10-year span as the Copiah-Lincoln Wolves.

Not only have the Wolves defeated the Wildcats nine times out of the last 120 years, but they have also knocked PRC out of the playoffs four of the last six years. PRC's lone victory was a 30-13 decision in 1987. The overall record has PRC holding to a 28-26-3 advantage.

Willie Coats, PRC's head coach said, "Obviously, Co-Lin has been a problem for us for some time."

This past week the No. 5 ranked Wildcats upended East

Central 40-0 during homecoming, while Co-Lin lost a close 29-28 decision to Southwest. PRC is now 7-0 overall and 4-0 in the South Division while Co-Lin is 3-4 and 1-3.

Not only have the Wolves upended the Wildcats over the past decade, they have done it in convincing style. Co-Lin has averaged 23 points per game and scored 30 points or more three years and 19 or more points seven years.

Coats complimented his coaches and line this week in a post game interview. "I always think of offensive linemen as a team within a team," said Coats. "Those five guys have to be together. They have a lot of calls to make, a lot of adjustments to make. They have to work together."

The first line includes center Norbert Barrett, guards, Perry Pylant and David King and tackles Chris Selman and Craig Weaver. King is a third string guard who was pressed into action against the Warriors because of injuries to Bart Pittman and Brad Morgan.

"They just dominated the line," said Coats. "They were the men who made the difference." PRC chalked up 478 total yards against East Central including 378 on the ground.

PRC has rushed for 1,809 yards this season for a game average of 258.5. The average should be enough for a first or second place standing in the state this week.

The Pearl River onslaught started in the first quarter when Sherrick Rogers capped a 64-yard, 15-play drive with a 6-yard TD. The final two Wildcats scores came on a 6-yard run by Damon Gooden and a 3-yard jaunt by Chey Stringer.

Chris Ryan scored on runs of 21 and 10 yards while quarterback Dana Hall scampered for another 47 yard strike. Ryan, the state's leading rusher, rushed 21 times for 140 yards and Hall netted 101 yards on 10 attempts.

The Co-Lin game is set for 4 p.m.

Fillingame crowned

Rachel Fillingame of Bay St. Louis was crowned Pearl River Community College's 1992 Queen by PRC President Ted Alexander, right, during pre-game ceremonies Saturday. The sophomore nursing major was elected by the student body in campus elections. She was escorted by her father Les Fillingame. She is a cheerleader, a member of the River Navigators, Phi Kappa and Student Alumni Foundation.

FISHIN' Y'ALL

By Jim Maness

How to open an oyster — painlessly

It's time to go fishin' y'all. "Out of the night, when the full moon is bright, comes the horseman known as Turtle. This bold renegade carves a T with his blade, a T that stands for Turtle."

Man, Zorro can only carve a Z with his blade, and that's no good for opening oysters.

That's right, the news this week is that the oyster season is open. All you red-blooded American men know what that means. It means, it means that: yes, it's time to cut our hands opening oysters again. So the turtle took blade in hand and promptly cut his hand opening some great-tasting oysters.

There is no truth to the story that you get extra flavor if you add your own blood to the oyster sauce.

Anyhow, if you have not had the chance to taste some of the new crop of oysters you had better get busy post haste (that means real quick) and try some of the gastronomical (25-cent word) delights.

The very first oyster will so delight your pallet that your imagination will run wild with delight. Whatever that means.

Oyster lovers should be aware that the first batch of oysters are real salty tasting. Which means they are goooood.

Since oysters do not come in easy open pop top containers, you might want to give some consideration to investing in some oyster opening accoutrements (50-cent word). Obviously, you need an oyster knife. An oyster knife can be obtained at any oyster knife hardware store.

If you decide not to obtain an oyster knife and decide to use something like a screwdriver, you should be prepared with the following items: cotton balls, needle and thread, plus large quantities of alcohol (medicinal).

The cotton balls are for the inside of people ears to screen out the #*&#& words when you drive the screwdriver through your hand.

The needle and thread are to sew up your hand when you drive the screwdriver through your hand.

The medicinal alcohol is for sterilizing the wound externally and pain killing internally when you withdraw the screwdriver that you have driven through your hand.

Hopefully, you are now convinced of the need for a real oyster knife.

The next items that you will need for your oyster opening experience are a good pair of work gloves and an oyster opening lead.

The lead looks like a big upside down W and as the name implies, it is made of lead.

There are many different ways to place the oyster on the lead. My favorite way (because it is the hardest way to cut my hands) is to place the oyster on the lead with the "heel" up. I then place the point of my oyster knife into the crack between the two halves of the shell.

I wiggle the knife until it is snug, then I twist the handle to pop open the two halves of shell. Once I pop the oyster open I raise one half of the shell until I can see the oyster inside.

Then I slide the oyster knife along the top of the shell until I can cut the eye or cartilage from the top shell. You then flip the top shell off and repeat the cutting procedure on the bottom shell.

At this point the oyster usually disappears so rapidly that no further explanations are possible.

One final important thing to remember, always wear gloves as Murphy's Law states that if your oyster knife can slip and cut your hand it probably will.

Only reports of fish this past week are of some nice size white trout being caught on the bottom using live shiners, or pogey, in Bayou Caddy.

Murray's Bait Shop, located on South Beach Boulevard between Lakeshore Road and Bayou Caddy, is the only place in this area that regularly has live pogey on hand.

This week's wonderful wise words: An oyster a day keeps you...

Watch those blades, turtle.

Cowboys shut out Blue Devils

The Bay American Legion Cowboys 11- and 12-year-olds shut out the Pearl River Blue Devils in a great offensive and defensive performance.

The Cowboys didn't waste any time getting on the scoreboard. Tony Benton ran the ball to the 32-yard line setting up the first TD.

Justin Wadsworth, on a handoff, ran the ball in for the score. PAT was unsuccessful.

The defense held the Blue Devils, and a great table by Ronald Brown, in the backfield, gave the ball back to the Cowboys.

On the next drive, Tony Benton scrambled to the six-yard line and scored on a handoff from Jamie Cuevas.

The extra point was good on a pass play to Robbie Henderson.

The defense held the Blue Devils to no first downs, and Wadsworth's fumble recovery and Blake Werner's interception ended the half and set the mood for second half play.

Scoring 14 points the first half, the Cowboys weren't through yet. The defense halted the Blue Devils' drive and soon took possession of the ball. Donald Brown broke through the line for a fine tackle behind the line of scrimmage.

Brandon Everett caused a fumble and Brown recovered.

The offense executed successfully on the next series. Brown rolled out and passed to Jamie Cuevas, advancing the ball to the third yard line.

Wadsworth rushed the middle for the TD and also scored the extra point.

The defense wasn't ready to give an inch.

Werner intercepted a second pass on their 15-yard line. The next possession put the icing on the cake.

"Jamie handed off to Tony and no one could catch him," said coach Fred Peterman. An 85 yard TD and Jamie Cuevas' quarterback keeper for the extra point put the game but out of reach for the Blue Devils.

With only one minute 23 seconds left, the defense took charge. Robbie Henderson's tackle caused loss of yardage and Stephen Peterman's tackle only allowing one first down in the second half.

The game ended with a sack by Everett. The Cowboys are now 4 and 1 and play the Hancock Hawks Saturday.

Cross Country Meet at Buccaneer Park

OLA takes 2nd in cross country

Our Lady Academy's cross country varsity team won a second place trophy at the Resurrection Invitational Meet in Gautier recently.

Six schools were represented in the meet. Long Beach captured first place, and Pascagoula took third.

OLA's varsity team members for this meet were Mallory Mestayer, senior; Beth Dillenkoffer, Amie Geary, Julie Ryan and Mary West, sophomores; and Annette Morel and Kathryn Scaife, eighth grade.

Of the 26 runners, Geary, Scaife and Mestayer finished 7th, 8th and 10th place, respectively, and received shirts.

Haidi Kerbl, sophomore, scored best among OLA's junior varsity runners in this same meet. She placed 4th. Other OLA runners were Lisa Pope and Bernice Sy, also sophomores.

On Sept. 19, both teams participated in the Festival Park Cross Country Meet in Grand Bay, Ala. In the junior varsity meet Scaife finished 6th among 33 runners and received a plaque. The varsity team finished 10th out of 18 schools.

Other OLA runners for this meet, in addition to the above, were Jennifer Clark and Andrea Platz, seniors, and Jonna Ellis, sophomore.

Twelve OLA girls participated in the Harrison Central work meet on Sept. 12. The average time was 17 minutes and 49 seconds compared with last year's first meet time of 18 minutes and 31 seconds.

Cross country as a sport "is expanding in terms of student participation," said Harry Hull, coach. "It offers an excellent opportunity to achieve and maintain physical fitness and serves as a very good means of conditioning for other sports, notably soccer and track."

Other invitational meets which OLA will participate in include Biloxi on Oct. 8; Pascagoula on Oct. 10; St. Martin on Oct. 17; SSC/OLA on Oct. 24; and Ocean Springs on Oct. 31. The district meet is scheduled on Nov. 7 at Harrison Central, and the state meet on Nov. 14.

Last year Burns led the Rock-A-Chaw soccer team to the semi-finals of state competition and was named coach of the South State All Stars.

Sports Challenge aids Cystic Fibrosis

The Coast's first Corporate Sports Challenge benefiting the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation is scheduled Saturday, Nov. 7 at the Gulfport High School field.

Suzanne Blackwell, executive director of the Mississippi chapter of the CF Foundation, is organizing the event.

Employees from a different local businesses form a 10-member team and challenge each other in Olympic-style events to prove which one has the competitive edge in the community. The event is completed in a few hours, and participants will be treated to refreshments provided by Pepsi, entertainment and an awards ceremony.

Bronze, silver, and gold medals will be awarded to each team member of the teams placing third, second and first place. All participants will also receive a Sports Challenge T-shirt.

"This event is a great way to get employees from various businesses and organizations together to support a worthwhile cause," said CF volunteer Sandra Norowski. "It only takes a minimum contribution of time and money to be a part of this exciting and fun event."

There are several levels of sponsorship: To sponsor a 10-person team is $300, and to sponsor an event is $100.

Some companies participating so far include Entex, South Central Bell, Bank of Mississippi, Hancock Bank, Mississippi Power, The Sun Herald, Deposit Guaranty and Pepsi.

Tigers, Bulldogs clash in crucial dist. contest

BY RANDY PONDER

Bay High will face the Perry Central Bulldogs in a must-win football game Friday night in New Augusta.

If the Bulldogs win, they would be the District 8, Class 3-A runner-ups and go on to the state playoffs. If the Tigers win, Bay High would go to the playoffs if they could also beat Poplarville the following week. "Perry Central is the best team I've seen this year," Tiger head coach Rocky Gaudin stated. "They are better than East Marion." The Bulldogs, like Bay High, lost to East Marion by a field goal. "They outplayed East Marion, they should have beat them."

Perry Central is 6-2 overall and 4-1 in conference play. The Bulldogs are coming off a 40-3 bashing of Vancleave last week.

Bay High, 6-1 and 3-1, is also enjoying the afterglow of a satisfying 41-0, surprisingly easy victory over county rival Hancock High.

Beating Perry Central at home, with nine seniors starting on defense and the same number on offense, will not be an easy task. "We can win but it will take a great effort with no mistakes on our part," Gaudin explained. "Defensively we are about even, that tells you how good they are. Offensively they have more weapons. We have a slight advantage in the kicking game."

For the first time since 1986, Bay High is the undisputed city-county champions of Hancock County and Bay St. Louis. On September 11, the Tigers defeated city rival St. Stanislaus 38-6. They also beat Pass Christian 14-6 to start the season. "The last of the 'streaks' was put to rest with our win over Hancock," Gaudin said. "More importantly, it shows that our program has reached the same or better level as our county rivals after years of being down."

In the Tigers' win over the Hawks, quarterback Sam Shepard completed 4 of 5 passes for 71 yards and two touchdowns. He also ran the ball five times for 11 yards. The junior signal caller has thrown a total of 6 TD passes to lead the division.

Larrone Lewis led the Tiger ground assault with 94 yards and one TD on 16 attempts. Leroy Hawkins gained 36 yards on six tries. Dywane Antoine and Xavier Lewis scored two TDs apiece while running for 9 and 20 yards, respectively. Brennan Compretta had two rushes for 14 yards and Kevin Gillum carried the ball three times for 8 yards.

Xavier Lewis scored both of his touchdowns on pass receptions. Gus Necaise caught one pass for 28 yards and Gerrit Carver caught one for 22 yards. Shawn Keener made 5 of 6 extra point attempts. The other one was blocked.

Defensively, Jeff Hopgood, Jimmy Strong, Yancy Mayfield, Danny Jackson, and Gerrit Carver held the line for the Tigers. They, along with linebackers Dwayne Antoine and Brennan Compretta and the secondary of Tristian Robertson, Paul Necaise, L.C. Curry and Kevin Gillum, provided the Bay High offense with excellent field position all night.

Hopgood, Mayfield and Strong were each in on 9 tackles. Curry, Compretta and Antoine were credited with 8, 7, and 5 respectively, while Necaise and Robertson had 4 each. Curry also had a pass interception and Hopgood returned a fumble for a score.

Kick-off is set for 7:30 pm at New Augusta. To get there, take Highway 49 to the first Hattiesburg exit. Turn east on Highway 98 and go about 17 miles to Perry Central High School. "Regardless of what happens, it has been a very happy and satisfying season and we hope to continue on with it these next few weeks," Gaudin said. "Thanks to all you, Tiger fans, for your great support."

Rocks celebrate homecoming

BY ELLIS CUEVAS

High school football will have more of a meaning this Friday for the St. Stanislaus Rock-A-Chaws, as homecoming will be celebrated.

Stanislaus has the task of playing host to the Pearl River Central Blue Devils, considered by Rock head coach Ken Lyons to be the champs of the District VIII Class 4-A conference.

In sizing up the homecoming opponent, Lyons said, "Pearl River Central has a powerful ball club, physically strong and well-balanced offensively and defensively. I project them to be the district champs."

"Stanislaus is improving, but we still need to work on our defense and stop fumbling on offense," Lyons added.

The young Stanislaus squad is 0-7 for the season, and they started with only four returning lettermen. Several key players have been out with injuries.

Fullback Kris Minchew, out for several games, may be ready Friday and has been practicing this week. Minchew's position has been filled by sophomore Jeep Mestayer.

If Minchew plays, Mestayer will not sit on the bench, Lyons said.

Nathan Middleton, also a sophomore, is scheduled to start at quarterback. In the d'Iberville game last Friday, he got his first full game of the season as quarterback.

Senior Jeffrey Bishop, now playing split end, is referred to by Lyons as the "quarterback" of the field on offense, and can also run the team at quarterback if necessary.

Bishop and Middleton have combined on some fine pass combinations in recent games.

The power running of Stanley Chapman improves each week, as well as his pass catching.

Another pass target of Middleton is sophomore Brandon Benoit, who can slip and slide through defenses for quick yardage. Benoit returned last week after a brief period of being out with "a foot injury."

Prior to his injury, Benoit was going over 100 yards a game average from scrimmage, as a runner.

Even in their seven defeats this season, Stanislaus has moved the ball, and put points on the board; but they have been stopped several occasions on turnovers.

Stanislaus has relied on many young players on defense this season, but does have speed in the secondary in senior Bryce Gex.

Lyons is hoping there will be a lot of support for the Rocks at the homecoming game.

Kick-off is set for 7:30 p.m. in Rock-A-Chaw stadium, Bookter Street at Necaise Avenue.

HHS changes strategy for homecoming contest

BY JACQUI COCHRAN

Last week's defeat by Bay High has caused the Hawks to revert back to their basic strategy of action, HHS assistant coach Greg Amacker reported.

"We had changed things around a little to match us with the Bay High defense," he explained. "It proved to be unsuccessful, so we have pushed that to the side and have been working at going back to what we did all season." Amacker said, the Hawks will once again face a "big team." Big, meaning size of players.

"Look at the weights on Picayune's starting line," he stated, "and then look at us."

"It was the size of the Bay High team which caused us to make changes in our game plan. The Tigers took us out of that game plan and once we got into a hole, we couldn't get out."

Amacker commented, responsibility for last week's loss is as much the coaching staff's as anyone's.

He added, in his opinion, the team still played well and gave their best effort.

"We have played some big teams all season," Amacker stated. "Picayune is another big challenge and we are just going to have to get up for it."

"The Picayune offense has a really good receiver in Justin Martin (No. 25)."

"He is a serious threat. We will have to stop him. He is their 'big play' man."

"Their offense has a tendency to throw you off balance with one or two plays and then they hit you with a big one. We will have to be on our toes for that sort of thing."

"Other than that, we are just going to have to control their inside running game, as well as improve on our own."

"The Hawk offense has been practicing hard all week in preparation for this large, five-man front of Picayune's defense."

Amacker added, since this is homecoming week for HHS, the kids are involved in a lot of activities.

"I just hope they don't get too distracted. They certainly have been practicing hard."

The Hawks presently stand 3-4 for the season and 1-2 in district. The Maroon Tide is 3-1 in district.

"If we can win the next three games," Amacker commented. "We will have had a successful season. This game against Picayune is doubly important, as a district game and a homecoming game."

The Hawks will host Picayune at HHS stadium tomorrow. The game begins at 7:30 p.m.

Hunter ed Classes begin next month

An additional hunter's education class will be offered November 4, 6, 9, 13-14 for those who were unable to attend a class earlier in the hunting season.

The November class will be taught at 6 p.m. in the Mississippi Power Building on Highway 90 on Bay St. Louis.

Mississippi requires a hunting license for hunters 16 years and older. Anyone born after January 1, 1972, is required to complete a hunter's education class prior to license purchase.

A limited space is available, and pre-registration is necessary. For information, call instructor Antoine Boyd at 467-6898.

Children age 11 and under must be accompanied by an adult to participate in the class.

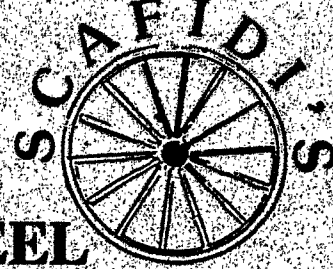

A boost from Athletic Club

Bay High Athletic Club president Joe Von Antz, left, presents a check for $10,000 to Bay St. Louis Superintendent Paul Tisdale. The money will be used to begin a fund for the construction of a track. The club has assisted the athletic program in many ways, including the purchase of a batting cage, basketball shot retrieve unit, sprinkler system and ice maker. With the district's help, they constructed a field house at the high school. Interested persons are invited to attend the club's meetings each Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. in the multi-purpose room at the high school.

THE SEA COAST ECHO—THURSDAY, OCTOBER 22, 1992-1B

Young, but capable hands

West Hancock Volunteer Fire Department led by teens

BY JACQUI COCHRAN
The West Hancock Fire District, which includes the town of Pearllington, is under the careful watch of 17 volunteer firemen, 90 percent of whom are under the age of 20.

Their chief, Tony Sciaccia, is an 18-year-old Hancock High School student.

Sciaccia said board president Linda Aubrey began the junior auxiliary program in 1989. He and Aubrey's son, Shawn, joined when they were both 16 years old.

"I started liking it," he explained. "I started going to the schools and enjoying it."

The night of the October meeting, the four firefighters and two junior auxiliary members present spoke of the department's greatest need—a new station.

Board member Glenn Dorr said a new station would not only permit the department to expand their equipment inventory and services to the community, but it would help stimulate community interest.

"We need the people of the community to come out and participate."

There are a lot of retired people living here who feel like they are too old to go out and fight fires. But there are so many other ways they can support the department's efforts.

For example, if a few people would be willing to go to the station when the alarm sounds and open the doors and start up the trucks, the firefighters would save about 10 minutes on their response time. In the colder months, it would save even more time as it takes longer to warm the engines.

There is so much everyone could do, not to say that many do not.

Sciaccia commented, "We have been working with our district for a number of months getting the proper paperwork together."

The new station will probably cost between $85,000 and $90,000. Hopefully we will be able to put a down payment on the station and finance the rest through our district.

"We have been saving, and we have a pretty good amount of money in our district right now."

He added the plans for the new station will triple the size of the present one.

DISTRICT SERVICES
The department was founded in 1978. It has one 1,000-gallon tanker, one 1,000-gallon tanker/pumper, and one 500-gallon pumper purchased this year.

The new pumper (500-gallon) has a 1,200-gallon per minute capacity. Sciaccia added proudly.

The station also has a 5,000-gallon water tower. Within the past year, the department purchased needed medical equipment such as oxygen.

Sciaccia reported, "We presently have only one EMT, but we added eight First Responders who qualified within the past year."

Equipment is kept sound by the volunteer repair service of Pearllington mechanic Scott Reynolds.

The boundaries of the department extend west along the Louisiana state line, north along I-10, east from the I-10 exit stop between the Hwy. 607/608 exit and down to Abbeville near the pipeline by Thunderbolt Gas, and south along the Mississippi Sound.

The Port Blanche Industrial Park is included, as well as the town of Pearllington.

They average five emergency calls a month, according to the fire chief. Half of these are medical.

He said, "Some months we have as many as 15, but the average is five."

"We get called out to I-10 a lot for cars that catch on fire, mostly from overheating, sometimes for accidents."

"We also answer a lot of woods fires."

A small amount of them are caused by people burning trash, but many are intentional-ally set for clearing brush or for setting traps for control of fire, they said, during controlled burns.

The district's fire rating is presently a nine, and needs to go down in number, Sciaccia stated.

"You need to have a pumping capacity of about 250 gallons per minute for one hour non-stop before they will reduce the rating. We could do it, but we need more equipment and manpower."

"We are also working on a dry hydrant system. We found the sites for them. It is just a matter of setting them up."

Port Blanche has hydrants, so that is one area where water access is available.

WITNESSES
Dorr reported that 90 percent of the district's population contributes an initial dues of $10 per household.

Each year, 10 percent of the dues would go for the fire department. He commented, "I put us right on the brink of having a full-time paid operator."

Right now, Elliot Dawsey, also 18, is the department's full-time firefighter. He is the only one who is able to perform calls as he no longer attends school.

He is also the department's only state-certified firefighter, having completed the State Fire Academy.

Sciaccia said he and several other firefighters attended the academy. He said that the academy is a 10-week course that teaches firefighters the basics of firefighting, including fire prevention, fire investigation, and fire suppression.

He said that the academy is a very challenging course, but it is worth the effort. He said that he and several other firefighters attended the academy and they all passed.

Volunteerism

Give a little, gain a lot

Editor's note: The following speech, written by St. Stanislaus senior Bernard Sy, was given to the Exchange Club of Hancock County.

Special to the Echo

There is always a need for volunteer work in our community and our world, and this need will not recede in the future. There are always opportunities for charity, whether it be to those with financial difficulties, physical handicaps, or emotional troubles, and the ways that we can help these people are endless.

It may be through monetary donations or through donations of our time. It could be through a large food drive during Thanksgiving or Christmas, or could be through something as simple as helping a student with schoolwork.

In any case, our volunteer work, no matter how large or small it may seem, benefits others and ourselves more than we can sometimes realize.

My brief stint as a member of the Key Club (at St. Stanislaus) has shown me the rewards of service toward others and especially myself. My first club experience was one I will cherish forever.

The club went to Miramar Nursing Center in Pass Christian. We went there to play bingo with the residents. I felt awkward at first, not knowing what to expect from the aging group. I saw the experience as more of a hindrance than a treasure. This foresight quickly changed.

My experience that evening with an elderly black woman whose name I did not even know (her memory was leaving her) is of great value to me.

I remember roaming around the room searching for someone to be my bingo partner. I finally sat down beside the woman and introduced myself. We began the first game. I was shy and nervous at first, but I finally forced myself to be social and try to show my bingo partner a good time. Again, I could not learn much about her, but as we played game after game, I began sensing that she was enjoying herself and so was I.

I noticed that what was a frown on her face became a smile. All of a sudden, I was not so uncomfortable anymore, and I was much more enthusiastic. When we finally won a game, I presented her with her prize of one dollar. This dollar might not be worth much financially, but I believe it meant something to her and me.

Before we left that evening, I thought that my time at the nursing home would be tedious. I was wrong. My bingo partner will be a reminder to me, and maybe we will never see each other again, but I will not soon forget my experience that night and how it benefited me. It would seem like such a simple thing to play bingo

Smoke-Free Class of 2000

Fifth graders pledge to be tobacco free

Fifth graders who are members of the Smoke-Free Class of 2000 in Mississippi are learning ways to recognize and resist the pressure to use tobacco.

The Smoke-Free Class of 2000 is a 12-year education and awareness campaign of the American Cancer Society, American Heart Association and American Lung Association to meet former Surgeon General C. Everett Koop's challenge to create a smoke-free generation by the year 2000.

Now in its fifth year, the three agencies plan to reach more than 135,000 fifth grade classrooms in the United States. In Mississippi the materials have already been distributed to more than 300 fifth grade teachers.

"The Price Is Life," a parody of a TV game show, is a core activity in which the classroom becomes an imaginary television studio for the students to answer questions about the truths and myths of smoking.

The students will also sing "commercial" jingles and songs and take their pledge to be tobacco-free with Keishia Knight Pulliam, who portrayed Rudy Huxtable on NBC-TV's "The Cosby Show."

In a fun, creative way, a multi-part teaching kit provides students with specific tools for making healthy choices. It also dispels the most common myths young people have about smoking and tobacco in a fun and creative way.

In addition to these materials, students also will participate in a book cover contest and a video contest that stresses the benefits of being smoke-free. The winning students and their schools will be eligible for prizes both on a state and national level.

Reaching young people with healthy choice messages is important in that studies show that it is much easier to never start smoking than it is to quit. When you consider that most kids start smoking in grades 6-9, you can see the timing is appropriate to reach students at this age.

Smoking is the single largest preventable cause of disease and death in America. Approximately 3,000 American teenagers start smoking each day with the highest rate of initiation among children, ages 11-14. Many experts believe the nicotine found in tobacco is a gateway drug that may lead some children to other harmful drug habits.

The Smoke-Free Class of 2000 is one of several joint efforts of the American Cancer Society, American Heart Association, and American Lung Association.

It is endorsed by more than a dozen national organizations, including the American Academy of Pediatrics, National Education Association, The National PTA, American Dental Association and American Medical Association.

If you would like to participate in the Smoke-Free Class of 2000 events scheduled for October, call 1-800-227-2345 for your free educational kit.

Cheryl Willett

Willett is national merit scholarship semifinalist

Cheryl Willett, senior at Our Lady Academy, has been designated a semifinalist in the 1993 National Merit Scholarship Competition. Semifinalists are selected on the basis of their scores on the PSAT/NMSQT taken in their junior year of high school.

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius Willett from Waveland, Cheryl is editor of the OLA yearbook, Tomorrow's Past, a Student Council representative from the senior class, and works with Campus Ministry.

She is a member of the National Honor Society, JETS (Junior Engineering Technical Society) Team, SADD (Students Against Drunk Driving) and the Crescent Athletic Club.

As a junior, Cheryl maintained the alpha honor roll, participated in cross-country and soccer, and starred in the drama "Fortress." At the awards assembly last May, Cheryl won the academic award in American history and computer.

Eight inducted into CEHS National Honor Society

Eight Coast Episcopal High School students were recently inducted into the Gertrude P. Stanton Chapter of the National Honor Society.

Among those selected was Virginia Johnson, a junior and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Johnson of Pass Christian.

Also inducted were sophomores Sally Cassidy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Cassidy of Gulfport; Amy Dedeaux, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Sidney Wong of Gulfport; Jesmyn Ward, daughter of Mr. and Mrs.

Norine Ward of Pass Christian; Rebecca Dockens, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Steve Dockens of Gulfport; Anna Stanfield, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Gordon Stanfield of Biloxi; Marty VanderNoot, son of Cmdr. and Mrs. Craig VanderNoot of Gulfport; and Marcie Williams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Williams of Bay St. Louis.

Elected officers of the National Honor Society are Ellen McRaney, president; Kimberly Kelly, vice-president; Adam Burdick, secretary; and Whitney Eastman, treasurer.

The National Honor Society recognizes outstanding students in the areas of scholarship, leadership, service and character. The Coast Episcopal High School Chapter is sponsored by Dr. Sudarshan Sabharwal.

SSC names homecoming court

St. Stanislaus will hold its 1992 Homecoming on Friday, Oct. 23. All alumni of St. Stanislaus are invited to take part in the activities to be held on the school campus which begin with a pep rally in the school gym Oct. 23 at 1:30 p.m.

At 5:30 that evening alumni and friends of St. Stanislaus are invited to a homecoming party in the Student Union. The game between St. Stanislaus and Pearl River Central will begin at 7:30 p.m.

Aimee Dean

The homecoming court will be formally presented at halftime ceremonies and again at the homecoming dance on Saturday.

This year's queen will be announced during halftime of the game. Court members are Catherine Cromwell, Aimee Dean, Julie Henry, Monica Maillho and Kristin Siciliano.

Catherine Allison Cromwell, who is a senior attending Our Lady Academy, is a member of SADD (Students Against Drunk Driving) and Campus Ministry.

Catherine Cromwell

She currently serves as secretary of the senior class. She is a past member of the Gayfer Girl Teen Board and was secretary of her junior class.

Kirstin Siciliano

During her junior year she was a Girls State delegate. While maintaining Alpha Honor Roll status, she was honored as Pepsi Student of the Month and received Pepsi Student of the Year for 1992.

Catherine is a member of the tennis team, and for two years has been president of the Crescent Athletic Club. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs.

Monica Maillho

Richard M. Cromwell of Pass Christian.

Aimee Marie Dean, who is a senior attending Our Lady Academy, is a member of SADD, JETS (Junior Technological Engineering Society), Campus Ministry, Peer Facilitators, and the yearbook staff.

She is editor of the school's yearbook and has served as treasurer of her class both as a junior and now as a senior. She maintains Beta Honor Roll.

Aimee is the daughter of Mr. David Dean of Harvey, La., and Mr. and Mrs. John Yaniga of Bay St. Louis.

Julie Elizabeth Henry, a junior attending Jackson Academy in Jackson, is active in the Key Club, the Spanish Club, Young Life, and the Pre-Medical Society. She was vice-president of the Sub-Debutante Ball. She also participates in the Law Ashley Fashion Board and was a semi-finalist in the Teen Magazine great-model search. Julie models for the Mississippi Morning Show on WAPT-TV 16.

She is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Chan Henry of Jackson. Monica Lyn Maillho, a senior attending Our Lady Academy, is a member of SADD, Campus Ministry, Jets, and the yearbook staff.

Monica is senior class president, an office she held her freshman and junior years as well. As a sophomore she served as a student council representative. Her sports activities include cheerleading since she was a sophomore, soccer, cross country, and the membership in the Crescent Athletic Club.

While maintaining Beta Honor Roll, Monica was honored as a Pepsi Student of the Month. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard J. Maillho of Diamondhead.

Kristin Siciliano, a senior attending Mount Carmel Academy in New Orleans, represented her class on the student council as a freshman and a sophomore. Also, she was a member of the Key Club and received the Outstanding Achievement Award as a junior. Kristin is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Siciliano of Metairie, La.

Volunteerism

with the elderly, but something so obscure and simple can be so rewarding.

As we approach the 21st Century, a time which promises to be one of discovery and revelation in more scientific and technological fields, the world must not neglect the needs of others.

There is likely to be a greater need in the future for charity as the high class continues to benefit from technological advances and as the less fortunate continue to be neglected.

The world will continue to grow toward a more capitalistic way of life, and fewer people will acknowledge the community's need for their aid. The world must not become engulfed in its own gain.

Hopefully, the world will continue to learn the value of charity and volunteering. We can help others in many ways. Whether it be in school, in our families or other members of the community, our charity makes things easier.

Volunteering does not only benefit others, but we as volunteers reap the benefits as it strengthens what is truly important, our spirit. Our charity rewards us with something that cannot be supplied by any material wealth.

In order for us to prosper as a community through the new century, we must address the needs of the community and continue to build our spirit of good will and kindness through charity.

THE CHIEF

Sciaccia and the other young men present for that October meeting were very unassuming about the importance of the roll they play in the everyday lives of the West Hancock populace.

Board member Thomas McArthur said, "Who you see here tonight are the men (firefighters) who contribute the most time and effort to the department."

SSC Pepsi Students

Pepsi Students of the Month for September at St. Stanislaus High School are, front row from left, eighth grader Kippy Chamberlain, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Chamberlain of Bay St. Louis; seventh grader Christopher Estrade, son of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Estrade of Bay St. Louis; second row, junior Philip Garcia, son of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Garcia of Bay St. Louis; sophomore Nathan Middleton, son of Mr. Sarah Middleton of Bay St. Louis; senior Manuel Bell, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Bell Jr. of Pass Christian; and freshman Matt Holder, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Holder of Long Beach.
